MEC Eco Line

Elegant design, Long service life, Easy to install

MEC-PBTIR02

Door Release Button

*Size: 86*86*30mm*

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

Door release button is one of the most important accessary in the access control system, millions of people commonly use it in the daily life. MEC electric Lock company, produces more than 20 different types of door release buttons, with material such as the plastic, aluminum alloy, zinc alloy, stainless steel and so on, to meet the customers' need.

Our release button is featured at elegant design, Long service life, easy installation, gain great feedback from all over the world. Now our products are widely used in the access control system of airport, subway, Banks, prisons, intelligent building, intelligent community, and other important places, and become convenient, fast and intelligent tools for the global users.

ADVANTAGE OF THE PRODUCTS

- Professional circuit design, no mechanical failure.
- Elegant appearance design, beautiful and easy.
- Fire retardant material, convenient installation.
- Various types, different using way.
- Normally open/closed functions, flexible application.
- 500000 Cycles tests,long service life.
- Appointed products for the high-class access control project.
- CE/FCC/ROHS approval.

Air port

Office

Email: sales@mec-eu.com | Website: www.mec-eu.com